"IT IS RAINING IN LONDON"

Some of Old England's Home Troubles.

ENGINEERING STRIKE GROWING.

The Crop Failures in Ireland---The Triumphal Visit of the Duke and Duchess of York.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The bad weather and cyclonic disturbances that has prevailed for some weeks now shows no signs of abating. The rainfall for August is largely in excess of the average and one of the heaviest for years.

The Duke and Duchess of York continue their triumphal visit to Ireland. Everywhere they are received with evidences of enthusiastic loyalty by the inhabitants.

The potato, hay and corn crops in most districts of Ireland are almost a total failure and there is the gloomiest outlook for the winter. The price of bread is rising daily, and the prospects are that needs of a large part of the people will have to be met by outside contributions, or the horrible suffering of the Irish famine of some years ago will be repeated. The hop crop is also reported to be far below the average.

The strike of the engineering trades has grown much more serious during this week. At first the strike was confined to engineers directly, but now it is extending to the various trades connected with engineering, and grave results may follow soon. Six thousand men engaged in the industries of moulding, boiler-making and finishing are out.

Troops to Check the Redskins.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4.—Secretary Bliss has requested Secretary Gage to furnish four troops of cavalry at Zuni, New Mexico, on the fifteenth instant, for the protection of the territorial authorities in arresting and prosecuting several Zuni Indians. The charge against them is torturing an aged Zuni woman.

Robin Hoods of the Rail.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 4.—A band of armed men held up the Gulf passenger train at Twin Mountain last night, intimidated the passengers and blew open the safe from which they secured ten thousand dollars.

A posse started at two o'clock this morning in pursuit. The railroad commissioner has offered a reward of five hundred dollars for their capture.

Crashed Into a Passenger Train.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A heavily loaded coal train, on the Long Island railroad, at Floral Park, crashed into a passenger train today. Six passengers were severely injured and both locomotives badly wrecked. The company's officers are investigating the collision.

A NEW NAME FOR A STAR.

Or the Advantages of a Vivid Imagination---Comedy that Acted Itself.

He was no hair brained fellow, but a bright, shrewd business man; he had seen the airship though, and wanted THE TELEGRAM man to see it. He led us, "like a lamb to the slaughter," down two blocks, while images of a monster, shaped like a big "cigar of de Havana," as Svengali would say, with an eye that would make a white search light blush a rosy red for shame, all this with visions of quadruple headlines swam before our fevered vision.

We came to a halt and our conductor pointed a quivering index at the bright red star under the Great Bear, that was doing its poor best to obey the command of the poet and "twinkle, twinkle." We turned a look upon our captor that was expected to freeze the grin on his face, but there was no grin there; he was in solemn earnest and declared that, like the sun, it "do move."

We moved also and on every street corner we found a group staring with all the intensity of the "bald-headed row." One colored brother remarked as we passed that "it done move fo' feet dis minit." A crowd of a dozen or so were trying to get a line on it over THE TELEGRAM office, but they said THE TELEGRAM moved so fast that the airship stood stock still and they hunted up a man's house who doesn't advertise; then the thing moved so fast that it left a streak like a comet's tail. We shall probably be called upon to chronicle soon that Schlatter, the healer, the cane, and ring man and the fellow with a "dead sure thing" have come to abide with us permanently.

Some Republicans are angry at the way in which they say the Governor treats the Attorney-General.

At Rest.

The dark shadow of death has fallen in another home, and other hearts are today bowed under a great grief.

Miss Mollie Truitt, who has been extremely ill for some time, was released from her sufferings by the summons of death at 4 o'clock this morning.

Miss Truitt succumbed to an attack of typhoid fever about three weeks ago, and though all efforts of medical skill and loving hands were brought into play, their powers were too feeble to stay the hand of death.

The deceased was an exemplary Christian and a devout member of the Christian church. The remains will be interred at Hines' chapel, eight miles northeast of town, tomorrow at 12 o'clock. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. Jeremiah W. Holt, of Burlington.

A devoted father and mother, three loving sisters and two fond brothers are left to mourn their loss.

Gratuitous Reports.

It has reached our ears, from various sources, that enemies of THE TELEGRAM are industriously circulating the report that THE TELEGRAM is an experiment, that it would shortly suspend publication, that our subscribers were for a month only and many of them were falling off. We have ignored these reports for a time, but feeling that some assurance is due our patrons, we have only to say that the patronage received has exceeded our expectations; that the number of subscribers we have lost is far on the safe side of a dozen, but on the contrary new subscribers are coming in daily; that our subscription books are always open to our patrons and an affidavit may always be had as to their accuracy.

THE TELEGRAM is not an experiment, but a reality; we are at least so encouraged that we are preparing to increase our equipment at an additional cost of a thousand dollars.

THE TELEGRAM is a permanent institution.

HE LIED LIKE A DOG.

Says Irby of Tillman--Claims he Was Knifed in Senatorial Race.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 4.—Ex-Senator Irby, who is in this city, in speaking of Senator Tillman today, said: "He is a dead duck politically; I made that man; I have been behind him in many undertakings, but he has now received fair warning that if we meet again there will be trouble. It was he who said he would 'hands off' in the race and gave a promise that he would not interfere, but he has been knifing me secretly from the jump. His hand has been in several plays that have operated against me."

"In his telegram to me he 'lied like a dog.' I give him due notice of what he is to expect from me."

COURT ADJOURNS.

One Hundred and Twenty-Seven

Cases Disposed of.

Our two week's term of court has adjourned without touching the civil docket. Fifteen days were spent in hearing criminal cases, and the following sentences were imposed by Judge Adams yesterday afternoon: Will Frier, assault and battery, three months on the roads.

Bob Newlin, for being implicated in bomb-throwing, five years on county roads. Motion for new trial overruled. Appeal to the Supreme court. Eliza Rice, larceny, continued. Charles Roberson, affray, two months on county roads. Mamie Wharton, larceny, two months in jail. John Hadley, John Morehead and Mary Hadley, affray, $5.00 each and costs. Robert Moore and William Ward, arson. Judgment as to Ward, five years on county roads; Moore, six years in the penitentiary at hard labor. Jno. Morehead and Margaret Smith, f. and a., judgment suspended on payment of cost. Sim McIver, Cicero Mitchell and Will Wagstaff, gambling on the Sabbath. Wagstaff, six months on county roads; McIver and Mitchell, one month on roads. Arthur Sumner, larceny, two months on roads. Judgment suspended on payment of cost. Fat Ryan, larceny. Judgment of the court was that this boy be bound out to some man in the county who should make him work and keep him from town. A short session of court was held last night when the motion docket was gone over, and a few judgments and orders were signed, after which court adjourned. There were one hundred and twenty-seven state cases disposed of during this term of court.

TERRIBLE COAL GAS EXPLOSION.

Indiana and Colorado Contribute to the Death Record of Today--

Twelve Men Killed.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 4.—A gas explosion at Broad River Ripple, ten miles north of here, shortly before noon, blew up a building and instantly killed two men.

Every ambulance in this city has been hurried to the scene with all possible dispatch. It is reported that twenty persons with arms and legs broken are lying in the street there awaiting medical attention.

The Last Excursion.

West's excursion from Raleigh to Asheville, on Tuesday, September 14, will be the last of the season, and the extremely low rate will doubtless cause many to avail themselves of the opportunity of the trip.

The train is scheduled to leave Greensboro at 11:50 on the morning of the 14th, and will leave Asheville on the return trip at 3 p. m. on the 16th, giving forty-five hours in the "Land of the Sky."

Special coaches for colored people will be attached to the train.

Lecture Monday Night.

Dr. Charles Alphonso Smith will lecture in the court house on Monday night, September 6th, at 8:30 o'clock. His subject is "Southern Oration Before the War." A discussion of the great orators who represented the south of ante-bellum days: Patrick Henry, Clay, Calhoun, Seargeant, Smith, Prentiss, etc.

Admission 25 cents. The proceeds will be added to the Greensboro public library fund.

WHY IS IT?

Attention was called in our local columns yesterday to the fact that several farmers have brought their wheat into town and were forced to haul it back home for want of a market. Surely this is a state of affairs that should not be permitted to continue.

It is, indeed, hard if the farmer who has wheat to sell cannot take advantage of the present high price. It speaks poorly for our city.

If there is any one thing that should be looked after carefully it is the providing of a market for everything the farmer has to sell, that can be handled at a reasonable profit. The farmer regards the city as a place where he can sell his produce, and surely with our railroad facilities we should be able to handle such common staples as wheat and corn.

We scarcely think that Guilford county grows more wheat than is needed for home consumption; it is not always possible for our roller mills, however, to handle all the wheat offered at one time, because the storage capacity is, necessarily, limited. We see no reason why some one could not handle the surplus at a fair profit to himself and to the encouragement and convenience of our farmers.

It has been a point with all our leading agriculturists, for years, to insist upon the farmers growing larger cereal crops and it is somewhat disheartening to them to find they cannot readily dispose of what is grown. Our people should patronize our local flouring mills and they in turn will be able to afford a larger and better market to the farmer, to the mutual benefit of all parties.

The man that is indifferent to all enterprises, save his own, cuts his throat thereby, sooner or later. The city that neglects its home industries, and especially if it fails to provide efficient markets, takes the surest way of dwarfing its own growth. Greensboro suffered enough from these causes in the past. She should see to it that they are removed.

QUIXOTIC, PURELY.

In the Progressive Farmer, of this week, we find the following:

"In a late effusion of Dr. Kilgo, of Trinity, we find the following, among other striking sentences:

"Political boosters * * * who standing in the shadow of North Carolina's best history, with gaping mouths, hurl their spleen at blood cemented walls."

After catechising the Doctor formixing his metaphors, our contemporary concludes its criticism by saying: "He is 'beyond' us with his 'political boosters'—whatever that may be." It is just there that the Progressive Farmer is, unintentionally, amusing. It pricks up its ears at once when "political boosters" are mentioned; nay more, it comes to the rescue with all the chivalrous alacrity of Don Quixote. It will be noted that Dr. Kilgo called no names at all. He could not possibly have had in mind either the Progressive Farmer or any of its political intimates. Was there ever an exhibition of such a generous defense of an enemy?

The Progressive Farmer just can't bear to hear anybody called a "political booster." It is the sole purpose of these paragraphs to call attention to that fact. How the heads of its enemies must have sizzled as it heaped on the coals in this disinterested fashion—for its friends were all wrapped in a mantle of conscious innocence quite impervious to the epithet.

EMPEROR WILLIAM has embraced an opportunity to make a contribution to the French jubilation, over the alliance with Russia, in the shape of a liberal supply of cold water. He intimates quite strongly that there are a few things for which he would appreciate an apology. It was downright cruel to call the airy Frenchman back to earth in so unceremonious a fashion. His too previous scalp-dance was quite harmless and served as a foil to Weyler's death-dance in Cuba.

AN INJUNCTION has been granted restraining a man in Baltimore from talking. Now that sounds like business. If the astute federal judges will summon some millions of people, in this happy country of free and copious speech, to appear before them and show cause why there should not be less chin music in the land, the stretch of power will be overlooked by a grateful public.

SINCE the Citizens' Union has nominated Seth Low for mayor of New York, without consulting the republicans, the unpleasant question that confronts Mr. Platt and his adherents is, whether they shall eat crow now in order to get the pie that will be served in the course to follow.

IT WAS not at all necessary for Mr. Debs to tell folks, in his St. Louis harangue, that he would probably meet the fate of the Chicago anarchists; sensible men have long regarded him as a most promising candidate for a martyr's crown of just that sort.

MR. IRBY, of South Carolina, announces that it was he who made Senator Tillman, but at present he scarcely exemplifies the saying that "man is prone to glory in the work of his own hands."

THE Sultan has conferred a Grand Cordon on the Patriarch of Armenia; incidentally he is preparing to confer a great bow-string upon a number of the Patriarch's flock.

JUDGING by the number of people who were looking for the air ship last night, the gold brick man would find a harvest here to make the heart glad.

A paper in the Piedmont section makes the statement that 40 per cent. of the men carry pistols.

In some sections a new species of tobacco worm is reported; it makes its way into the leaf, destroying its vitality.

The railroads will make an exceptionally low rate to the state fair this year. The rate is only a little over one cent per mile.

Work is soon to begin on the University alumni building. It will cost $25,000 and will be erected on the square of the Caldwell monument.

The deed conveying the lease of the North Carolina Railroad from the Southern to the Central Trust company of New York, was filed in the office of the Register of Deeds in Durham yesterday.

Winston's tobacco fair is to be held in November. It promises to be a big thing. The various committees are actively engaged in making the necessary arrangements for the coming exposition.

Governor Russell has not yet rendered any decision in the railway commissioners' matter. When the decision will be made or what it will be no one knows. The Governor says he does not know when it will be made.

Yesterday afternoon a son of J. J. Holloway, of Durham, in attempting to swing onto a car, fell under the wheels which passed over his legs just above the knees. It is thought both limbs will have to be amputated.

Napoleon Shaved Himself!

So Does
Ex-President Cleveland.

This fact, however, does not necessarily imply that all great men shave themselves, or that all men who shave themselves are great. In fact, this is not a matter of any concern to the great army of men who prefer to shave themselves. It is important, however, to have

FICTION AND SOCIOLOGY.

A FEW months since, we heard the scholarly Professor of English in Chicago University, R. G. Moulton, make a most vigorous defense of fiction. Among other striking things, he said:

"In the great ages, what name is more suggestive of literary dignity than the name of Plato? Yet Plato has presented his whole philosophy in a fictitious setting—imaginary dialogues in which the characters, plot and movement are as carefully elaborated as in an epic or drama. Higher authority yet may be quoted. Of the world's greatest Teacher, the one point of literary form which most impressed his contemporaries was his preference for fiction. 'Without a parable spake he not unto them.'"

"Fiction is the experimental side of human science. Literature, we know, is the criticism of life. But such branches of literature as history and biography are at a disadvantage, because they must, like the mere observer of physical nature, confine their critical survey to what has happened. The poet and the novelist can go far beyond this. They can reach the very heart of things by contriving human experiments, setting up, however artificially, the exact conditions and surroundings that will give a vital clearness to their truth. Physical science stood still for ages while method was limited to actual observations of nature; it commenced its rapid advance when modern times invented the idea of experiment. It is similarly not surprising that the literature of humanity should have failed to make itself felt upon the modern mind while directors of education granted dignity only to the records of facts. Fiction is philosophy applied."

The most palatable form of presenting philosophy from Plato's "Phaedo" to "Coin's Financial School" has been by means of fiction. True in some of our modern productions, the philosophy is so bald as to completely destroy the novel as a means of entertainment. "All Sorts and Conditions of Men," "Looking Backward," "Caesar's Column," "Murvale Eastman," "Marcella" and "A Singular Life," come rapidly into the mind as we review the sociological novels of the past decade. In each of these, its author has some panacea for all of society's ills. His philosophy, if presented in its usual form, would be tiresome and unattractive, but applied to life as pictured in his novel, becomes interesting and impressive.

Of the above books, "All Sorts and Conditions of Men" is remembered because it led to the erection of the magnificent People's Palace in East London. "Looking Backward" and "Caesar's Column" vaguely recall to the mind an optimistic and a pessimistic view of society. "Murvale Eastman" is forgotten. "Marcella" and "A Singular Life" remain.

"MARCELLA" is being studied now in a great American theological seminary as a text book in sociology. "A Singular Life," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps is equally deserving of such an honored place. Dr. H. W. Mabie ranks it as one of the three greatest books of the past decade. Emanuel Bayard, the young preacher hero, endeavors to live the Christ-life under modern social conditions. His battle for temperance and piety in a New England fishing town is vividly told, but doubtless would grow dull were it not for the strong womanly Helen Carruth, who is introduced that the story may not lack the necessary element of love.

HARPER'S is falling behind; yet it has one fine serial now running. John Fox, Jr., has made an enviable reputation by his East Kentucky stories, which recently appeared under the startling title, "Hell for Sartain." The novel is taken from "Hell for Sartain Creek," famous throughout Kentucky for the bloodthirsty character of the people who live along this mountain stream. "The Kentuckians" is Mr. Fox's first pretentious effort, and if the three numbers which have already appeared are indicative of those to follow, Kentucky has another literary genius, of whom she may be as justly proud as of James Lane Allen.

The current number of "The Review of Reviews" contains an able defense of President Andrews, of Brown University. It is interesting to note that the board of trustees have rescinded their foolish action and have invited Dr. Andrews to remain at the head of the institution. Dr. J. M. Curry, ex-Minister to Spain, who is well known in this city, contributes an appreciative estimate of the late Spanish Premier, Canovas. The editorial matter of this number is well up to its usual high-water mark.

McCLURE'S is having difficulty in holding its own with the other two nickel magazines. This month Rudyard Kipling contributes a poem that is decidedly Kiplingesque. William Allen White, who knows the Kansas small boy to perfection, tells of the "Martyrdom of Mealy Jones." Stevenson's "St. Ives" is continued. The Klondike and the Klondikeans come in for twelve pages of matter, while Colonel Waring takes equal space to describe his pet schemes for cleaning the streets of New York.

GENERAL NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

William Orton jumped from the Brooklyn bridge and was much injured.

Plans are being made for the opening in Baltimore of an aseptic barber shop.

The report that a party of Bolivians invaded Peruvian territory is officially denied in Lima.

The farmers' congress at St. Paul, Minn., declared against government ownership of railroads.

The exports for July were valued at $69,925,770, an increase of $4,300,000 over the same month last year.

Separate conventions of the three political parties in Nebraska united upon a fusion ticket for state officers.

A special commission will meet shortly to discuss the introduction of universal and compulsory education in Russia.

Brigadier General George D. Rugles, for the past four years adjutant-general of the army, will retire on September 11.

A party of four persons ascending Mount Pleureur, in the Alps, were swept by an avalanche into a crevasse 1,000 feet deep.

General Duffield, superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey, says the Klondike gold regions are well within British territory.

Postmaster General Gary has arranged for an exchange of mails between Dyea, Alaska, and Dawson City, Canada, for the benefit of the gold miners of the Klondike country.

The collection of discriminating duties has been suspended pending Attorney-General McKenna's decision of the questions at issue. The decision will probably not be ready before next Monday.

John H. Buck is required to show cause why he should not be enjoined from disclosing trade secrets of the National Mining and Milling Company of Baltimore county, by which he was formerly employed.

It is asserted in Berlin that the German government will demand from France an explanation of the dispatch sent by Premier Meline, in reply to the message of congratulation of the Alsace Lorraine society, in which the premier expressed the hope of a reunion of Alsace Lorraine with the French republic. The German government, it is also asserted, will demand satisfaction for the excesses committed before the German embassy in Paris on the evening of President Faure's return from Russia.

Superintendent Ray, of the Institution for the Blind, has received applications from 75 new pupils to enter that institution this fall.

Piedmont Association at Summerfield.

EMBRACES EIGHTEEN CHURCHES.

It is the Youngest and one of the Most Active Baptist Associations in the State.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

SUMMERFIELD, N. C., September 4.—The Piedmont Baptist Association, the youngest and one of the most active associations in the state, is now in session at Summerfield, N. C. This religious body is composed of 18 churches, all located within a radius of 25 miles of this place. They represent a membership of 1,500—a decided increase over last year; they have over 1,000 children in their Sabbath schools, and have raised for church expenses during the past year more than $6,000. The West Washington street church, of your city, is the largest organization in the association, and its members take an important part in its proceedings.

The association was called to order Thursday morning. Rev. F. H. Jones, of Reidsville, is chosen moderator and Judge W. H. Eller, of this city, clerk. Two new churches are welcomed into membership of the association—Pleasant Grove and the Cherry street church, recently organized in the northern part of the city.

Rev. U. L. Kestler, until recently pastor of the High Point church, had been appointed to preach the introductory sermon. In his absence, his place is filled by Rev. J. A. Munday, D. D., of Reidsville.

The latest benevolent work undertaken by the Baptists of this state is the relief of aged and indigent ministers. Perhaps it is because of their long neglect of these needy and worn-out servants of God, that Baptists throughout the state are taking the keenest interest in this work. The needs of the Relief Board for Aged Ministers was the subject brought before the body—the report being presented and discussed by Rev. S. Johnson.

The association has three earnest missionaries working in its bounds and one of its churches is supporting a missionary in China. The missionaries give a most encouraging report of their past year's work.

The subject of Baptist literature calls forth general discussion.

The claims of the Orphanage are ably presented by Rev. J. B. Boone, superintendent of the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville. He reports 166 helpless children under their care, a new school building costing $5,000, and a hopeful future.

The report on Home Missions in the South is discussed by Rev. J. L. Lane, of Summerfield, and Rev. J. E. White, of Raleigh.

The report on temperance closes the afternoon session.

Last night, the body convened to listen to an eloquent discourse by Rev. J. E. White upon the needs of State Mission work in North Carolina.

This morning, the attendance is largely increased by an excursion from Ramseur.

The discussions upon Sunday Schools, Education and Foreign Missions, which were the order for the forenoon session, calls forth the liveliest discussion.

Tonight, Rev. O. L. Stringfield, the indefatigable representative of the Baptist University, will speak upon Higher Education for Women.

Among the visitors we noticed Rev. S. F. Conrad, of Winston; Rev. J. E. White, of Raleigh; Rev. Rufus Weaver of Kentucky, and Rev. J. B. Boone, of Thomasville.

The association adjourns to meet next year with Mt. Zion church, Rev. L. Johnson, of this city, being appointed to preach the introductory sermon.

Delightful Lawn Party.

The beautiful lawn at Rev. Dr. Crawford's residence was the scene of attraction for the members of the Peripatetic club last night. Cream, cake and other delicious and seasonable refreshments were served.

This club is composed entirely of young people, and the young ladies present last night, in their happy glee and jolly mirth were never more lovely. Each was an exquisite poem of enchanting loveliness, and this was the unanimous opinion of the young men who were fortunate enough to bask in their radiant smiles.

In every way the evening was all that could have been desired. The weather delightful, young ladies bewitching, refreshments "just right" and young gentlemen glad they belonged to the Peripatetic.

To Play a Patch Game.

Our tennis club has challenged the Guilford College club for a match game to be played soon. Guilford is said to have some good players, and our players are known to be "up to the limit," so if the challenge is accepted a spicy game may be expected.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

C. B. Green, of Durham, was here yesterday.

John Fariss went to Winston this morning.

Henry W. Fries, of Salem, was here last night.

W. B. Beacham and family have moved into the residence at 217 North Spring street.

Rev. W. L. Grissom goes down to Ramseur this evening, where he will preach tomorrow.

Miss Daisy Hartsell, of Concord, arrived in the city on the noon train on a visit to relatives.

Miss Sadie Pleasants, of Salisbury, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. T. Hedgpath, on Schenck street.

Mrs. J. J. Pleasants and little daughter, Grace, of Hillsboro, are visiting Mrs. Alex. Pleasants.

Zeb Curtis, of Asheville, who has been visiting Charlie Weaver, went to Lynchburg on the noon train.

Mrs. H. B. Connelly came down from Mocksville on the noon train on a visit to Mrs. C. S. Watson.

Geo. W. Watts and Rev. Dr. L. B. Turnbull passed through this morning on their return to Durham.

Our clever young friend Charles Forbis, has accepted a position with the Cox-Ferree Dry Goods Company.

Miss Florence Glenn, of South Boston, Va., who is visiting at Gen. Jas. D. Glenn's, spent the day in Winston.

Mrs. Fannie Walker, of Reidsville, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. E. Thomas, returned to her home this morning.

Mrs. R. E. Darden, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. L. E. Darden, returned to her old home at Franklin, Va., this morning.

Dr. P. W. Few, professor of higher English at Trinity College, passed through from South Carolina today, returning to Durham.

Mrs. L. M. Clymer went over to Reidsville on the noon train in response to a telegram announcing the death of her little niece.

Judge Spencer B. Adams left on the vestibule last night for his home at Yanceyville to spend a day or two before he opens court at Durham Monday.

Prof. J. R. Moseley, of Mercer College, Macon, Ga., passed through this morning en route to his old home at Elkin. He is just back from a European tour.

Miss Charlotte Miller, of Winston, came down last night and will enter G. F. College. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Eva, who returned home this morning.

Miss Eunice M. Darden, of Perquimans county, stopped at the McAdoo last night on her return from a visit to her brother at Toronto, Canada. She is an alumna of Guilford College.

J. M. Millikan, accompanied by J. M. Bailey and J. A. Logan, two of the clerks in the U. S. Marshal's office, went to Asheville this morning to spend Sunday at Mr. Millikan's home.

Miss Willie Smith, one of Durham's most attractive and charming young ladies, left for her home on the noon train today. Miss Smith has spent most of the summer in Greensboro, and she has scores of friends here who regret to see her leave.

From the Salisbury World we learn that Richard Merrimon, of Raleigh, who recently left for Seattle, Washington, with the intention of extending his trip to the Klondyke region, is sick in Chicago. He is a brother of W. B. Merrimon, of this city.

Will Remain in Greensboro.

It has been rumored around the streets that B. L. Ruben, the tailor, was preparing to leave Greensboro. It is not known how the rumor originated, and Mr. Ruben knew nothing of it till his return to the city last night. He authorizes THE TELEGRAM to say the rumor is without any foundation, whatever; that he is doing a good business and has never had a thought of leaving Greensboro since locating here more than two years ago.

Mr. Ruben has just received his fall stock and is prepared to fit you out in the latest style.

Watch for his new ad. Monday and call around and take a look at his new goods.

Rev. Dr. Roberts Coming.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Roberts, the eminent Virginia divine and lecturer, is now on a tour through the south and will deliver his latest production, entitled "Messages of Today to the Men of Tomorrow," at the Academy of Music on Tuesday night, September 7.

This is said to be his most famous lecture. The press of the country commends it highly. The large cities of the east have heard him in throngs and have pronounced the lecture a fine one.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says: "Rev. Dr. J. H. Roberts, of Virginia, delivered his new and interesting lecture entitled: 'Messages of Today to the Men of Tomorrow' to a vast audience at the Y. M. C. A. hall Thursday night, and held them spell-bound from start to finish."

The lecture-loving public of this city will perhaps find the Doctor an entertaining and instructive speaker. The price of admission is 15 cents; two tickets for 25 cents.

The "Granite City" Excursion.

Lane's excursion from Ramseur to Mt. Airy passed through here this morning about 9 o'clock, carrying a good crowd to enjoy a day's outing in the "Granite City."

J. C. Murchison, master of trains for the C. F. and Y. V., furnished a special car which carried quite a crowd of Greensboro young people to Pilot Mountain, where they enjoyed a picnic on the pinnacle. The day has been an ideal one for climbing a mountain and the crowd who left here were prepared to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent.

The Caucasian will hereafter be printed at Barnes Brothers'.

POINTS FROM HIGH POINT.

Personal and Local Affairs Briefly Mentioned.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Sept. 4, '97.

The reception given last night by the W.-C. T. U., in honor of the recently elected members, was well attended. The exercises were first-class in every respect. After they were gone through with, refreshments were served.

Grand Dictator Shaw, of Littleton, is in the city completing the organization of a Knights of Honor lodge. Officers for the present semi-annual term will be elected tonight.

R. H. Rickart, Grand Chancellor K. of P. for North Carolina, was present at the lodge meeting last night. He made some very interesting and instructive remarks. There was much interest manifested by the members and it seems as though No. 39 will yet stand the peer of her sister lodges in this domain.

Mrs. R. L. Clark left this morning for Baltimore to purchase her fall and winter stock of millinery. Mrs. Blair, of Asheville, accompanied her.

P. V. Kirkman will leave Monday for New York in the interest of the High Point Upholstering company.

Examinations for the graded school begin next Tuesday.

The condition of Jos. Remfré is unimproved. His death is momentarily expected. Rev. Mr. Williams, rector of the Episcopal church, is here visiting the family.

B. L. Ruben, our clever merchant tailor, returned last night from a successful southern trip.
